[Sara Feigenholtz]: "My mom was an immigrant from Eastern Europe who put herself through medical school and spent her life caring for people even when they couldn't afford to pay.

To me, that's public service. For 14 years, I've ignored the political games in Springfield to get things done - like passing healthcare for poor children and equal pay for equal work. I'm Sara Feigenholtz and I approve this message because we need people in Congress who know public service isn't about them. It's about us."
